

Commentary/Op-Ed - January 2010

Making the Most of Manhattanville

In this Off the CUF commentary, David Hochman writes that the battle over eminent domain should not be the final word on Columbia's planned expansion into West Harlem, arguing that local officials should now work to ensure that the university's new campus triggers additional economic development for New York and the community.

by David Hochman

Click here to read the commentary \(PDF\).

RELATED PRESS

Policy group urges retooling of Columbia plan

The Real Deal, January 21, 2010